New Orleans is a vibrant and historic city with a unique culture and rich culinary scene. There are so many things to see and do in New Orleans, from visiting the iconic French Quarter to exploring the lush Garden District. Whether you're a first-time visitor or a longtime resident, this guide will help you make the most of your time in New Orleans.

1. Visit the French Quarter

The French Quarter is the heart of New Orleans. This historic neighborhood is home to some of the city's most iconic landmarks, including Jackson Square, St. Louis Cathedral, and Preservation Hall. The French Quarter is also known for its lively nightlife, with plenty of bars, restaurants, and live music venues to choose from.

2. Take a stroll through the Garden District

The Garden District is one of New Orleans' most beautiful neighborhoods. This historic district is home to some of the city's most beautiful mansions, as well as lush gardens and parks. The Garden District is also a great place to find antique shops, art galleries, and restaurants.

3. Visit Jackson Square

Jackson Square is the heart of the French Quarter. This historic square is home to St. Louis Cathedral, the Cabildo, and the Presbytere. Jackson Square is also a popular place to relax and people-watch. You can often find street performers, artists, and musicians in the square.

4. Visit St. Louis Cathedral

St. Louis Cathedral is the oldest continuously functioning cathedral in the United States. This historic cathedral is a must-see for any visitor to New Orleans. You can tour the cathedral for free, and you can also attend a Mass.

5. Visit Preservation Hall

Preservation Hall is a historic music venue in the French Quarter. This venue has been hosting traditional New Orleans jazz music for over 50 years. Preservation Hall is a great place to see some of the best jazz musicians in the city.

6. Attend Mardi Gras

Mardi Gras is New Orleans' biggest party of the year. This annual celebration is a time for music, dancing, and parades. If you're in New Orleans during Mardi Gras, be sure to check out the parades and parties on Bourbon Street.

7. Eat beignets at Café du Monde

Café du Monde is a New Orleans institution. This café is known for its delicious beignets, which are square-shaped pastries covered in powdered sugar. Café du Monde is a great place to get a taste of New Orleans' famous cuisine.

8. Take a swamp tour

New Orleans is surrounded by swamps and marshes. There are several tour companies that offer swamp tours, which are a great way to see the local wildlife. You can see alligators, turtles, snakes, and birds on a swamp tour.

9. Visit the National World War II Museum

The National World War II Museum is one of the most popular museums in New Orleans. This museum tells the story of the American experience in World War II. The museum has exhibits on everything from the D-Day invasion to the atomic bomb.

10. Visit the Audubon Zoo

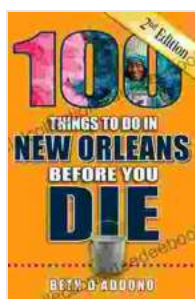

The Audubon Zoo is home to over 2,000 animals from around the world. This zoo is a great place to see animals up close, and it also has a variety of educational exhibits.

These are just a few of the many things to do in New Orleans. With its rich culture, history, and cuisine, New Orleans is a city that has something to offer everyone.

Here are some additional tips for planning your trip to New Orleans:

- Book your hotel in advance, especially if you're traveling during peak season.
- Purchase a CityPASS to save money on admission to popular attractions.
- Wear comfortable shoes, as you'll be ng a lot of walking.
- Be prepared for the heat and humidity, especially during the summer months.
- Drink plenty of water to stay hydrated.
- Be aware of your surroundings and take precautions to avoid crime.
- Have fun and enjoy your trip!
